So briefly, we are the innovators of a pretty new management approach concentrating on the use of the methodology of drama and theatre as an attractive, effective, entertainment-filled and facilitating tool in running and conducting the administrative process so as to help the involved institutions achieve its objectives smoothly, easily and productively.

Dramanage is precisely coined to stand for and express a new idea aimed at the intention of using what could be called as drama-administered management. In other words, the notion of «Dramanage» is based on the use of the techniques, methods and tools of the drama and theatre in order to employ them in a professional manner to provide an advisory and consulting management services through the reliance on creativity, unconventional thinking and unaccustomed ideation.

Expressed another way, Dramanage is a social enterprise that resulted from more than ten years of experience in drama works, theatre and atypical, non-stereotyped management at Yes Theatre. As well, Dramanage has been designed as a facilitating means to provide management consultation in a non-stereotyped, unfamiliar manner based on the use of various drama and theatre techniques.

to, by our virtue as the innovators of the Dramanage approach of administration, we are committed to providing our various programs on an ad hoc basis and in a customized manner through studying the needs of the intended customer first of all, that is, there are no fixed or rigid programs. But, instead, the programs of our approach have a great deal of elasticity such that they could be modified to be customized and specified according to the needs and requirements of the beneficiary institution or company.

Dramanage is the optimal way to reach the goal so efficiently and effectively in order to realize excellence and attain a high degree of quality, meanwhile it is worthwhile noticing that being in the shadow of the traditional management methods represents a kind of administrative burdens imposed on institutions and individuals.

Moreover, the idea of Dramanage believes in the real importance of the human resources.
